Artist Talk: D.Y. Begay, Navajo Weaver

Born and raised on Navajo territory, artist D. Y. Begay learned how to spin, dye, and weave according to family traditions passed down for generations. Today she combines mastery of traditional Navajo weaving with diverse design concepts.

This lecture coincides with the exhibition Mother Earth, Father Sky: Weavings from the Navajo World, on display in Gallery 100. The exhibition will be open for viewing immediately following the lecture.

Wednesday, January 29, 2014
6:30 pm
The Farrell Auditorium
at the Saint Louis Art Museum

For additional information contact the St. Louis Art Museum at 314-721-0072