The 20th Annual Spring Pow Wow

“Celebrating 20 Years of American Indian Education and Community Success”

The Kathryn M. Buder Center for American Indian Studies will host our annual Spring Pow Wow Saturday, April 10th, 2010. This student-run event combines what is most important to each of us: education, culture, and community. We are proud to welcome our family and friends to the Washington University in St Louis campus every spring to have fun, laughter, and enlightenment.

Why Volunteer?

You will have the opportunity to experience and enjoy the culture of American Indians. The only requirement is a willingness to give a little of your time. There are several ways that you can be a part of this celebration.

- Two Hour Commitment
- Sell T-Shirts
- Set-up / Take-down equipment
- Work Concessions
- Learn about Native American Culture
- Volunteers receive discount on official Pow Wow T-shirt
- Eat frybread and have fun!!!
