The American Indian and Alaska Native (AI/AN) Concentration is designed to prepare students for advanced social work practice with AI/AN populations. The concentration grounds students in the historical and contemporary issues facing Native populations from a cultural, policy, and practice perspective.

Concentration Chair
David Patterson, Associate Professor
314-935-8317
dpatterson22@wustl.edu

Other Activities
Students will also be invited to participate in lectures, roundtable discussions, and community events, which focus on AI/AN topics.

American Indian and Alaska Native Concentration

Kathryn M. Buder Center for American Indian Studies
Washington University in St. Louis
One Brookings Dr., Campus Box 1196
St. Louis, MO 63130
314-935-4510
bcais@wustl.edu • buder.wustl.edu

Students met with Sherry Black, Director of the Partnership for Tribal Governance at NCAI.
Overview

Concentration courses are designed to prepare students to obtain competence in the following 10 areas:

- Identify as a professional social worker and conduct oneself accordingly.
- Apply social work ethical principles to guide professional practice.
- Apply critical thinking to inform and communicate professional judgments.
- Engage diversity and difference in practice.
- Advance human rights and social and economic justice.
- Engage in research-informed practice and practice-informed research.
- Apply knowledge of human behavior and the social environment.
- Engage in policy practice to advance social and economic well-being and to deliver effective social work services.
- Respond to contexts that shape practice.
- Engage, assess, intervene, and evaluate with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities.

Requirements

Coursework

Theory, Problems, and Issues
S20-5751
American Indian Societies, Values and Cultures

Social Policy
S40-5749
AI/AN Social Welfare Policies and Administrative Practices

Practice Methods
S31-4000
Social Work and American Indians

S60-5019
Community Development with AI and other Indigenous Communities

S60-6025
Leadership Development & Evaluation in Indian Country I & II

S60-6026
Leadership Development & Evaluation in Indian Country III & IV

Fieldwork: A minimum 360 hours of the five credits (600 hours) of concentration practicum is required in Indian Country. The practicum experience must be in an approved practicum site where the primary focus is on AI/AN issues or the topics and activities undertaken are generalizable to these populations.

Requirements

Dr. Wesley Thomas talked with attendees at the Two Spirits Film & Panel Discussion.

Students worked with Chef Nephi Craig at the Maatibi. Imokwayi. Ittanahli. (Hunt. Fish. Gather.) Event.
Overview

Concentration courses are designed to prepare students to obtain competence in the following 10 areas:

- Identify as a professional social worker and conduct oneself accordingly.
- Apply social work ethical principles to guide professional practice.
- Apply critical thinking to inform and communicate professional judgments.
- Engage diversity and difference in practice.
- Advance human rights and social and economic justice.
- Engage in research-informed practice and practice-informed research.
- Apply knowledge of human behavior and the social environment.
- Engage in policy practice to advance social and economic well-being and to deliver effective social work services.
- Respond to contexts that shape practice.
- Engage, assess, intervene, and evaluate with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities.

Requirements

Coursework

Theory, Problems, and Issues
S20-5751
American Indian Societies, Values and Cultures

Social Policy
S40-5749
AI/AN Social Welfare Policies and Administrative Practices

Practice Methods
S31-4000
Social Work and American Indians

S60-5019
Community Development with AI and other Indigenous Communities

S60-6025
Leadership Development & Evaluation in Indian Country I & II

S60-6026
Leadership Development & Evaluation in Indian Country III & IV

Fieldwork:
A minimum 360 hours of the five credits (600 hours) of concentration practicum is required in Indian Country. The practicum experience must be in an approved practicum site where the primary focus is on AI/AN issues or the topics and activities undertaken are generalizable to these populations.
Overview

Concentration courses are designed to prepare students to obtain competence in the following 10 areas:

- Identify as a professional social worker and conduct oneself accordingly.
- Apply social work ethical principles to guide professional practice.
- Apply critical thinking to inform and communicate professional judgments.
- Engage diversity and difference in practice.
- Advance human rights and social and economic justice.
- Engage in research-informed practice and practice-informed research.
- Apply knowledge of human behavior and the social environment.
- Engage in policy practice to advance social and economic well-being and to deliver effective social work services.
- Respond to contexts that shape practice.
- Engage, assess, intervene, and evaluate with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities.

Requirements

Coursework

Theory, Problems, and Issues
S20-5751
American Indian Societies, Values and Cultures

Social Policy
S40-5749
AI/AN Social Welfare Policies and Administrative Practices

Practice Methods
S31-4000
Social Work and American Indians

S60-5019
Community Development with AI and other Indigenous Communities

S60-6025
Leadership Development & Evaluation in Indian Country I & II

S60-6026
Leadership Development & Evaluation in Indian Country III & IV

Fieldwork: A minimum 360 hours of the five credits (600 hours) of concentration practicum is required in Indian Country. The practicum experience must be in an approved practicum site where the primary focus is on AI/AN issues or the topics and activities undertaken are generalizable to these populations.

Requirements

Dr. Wesley Thomas talked with attendees at the Two Spirits Film & Panel Discussion.

Students worked with Chef Nephi Craig at the Maatibi. Imokwayli. Ittanahli. (Hunt. Fish. Gather.) Event.
The American Indian and Alaska Native (AI/AN) Concentration is designed to prepare students for advanced social work practice with AI/AN populations. The concentration grounds students in the historical and contemporary issues facing Native populations from a cultural, policy, and practice perspective.

Concentration Chair

David Patterson, Associate Professor
314-935-8317
dpatterson22@wustl.edu

Other Activities

Students will also be invited to participate in lectures, roundtable discussions, and community events, which focus on AI/AN topics.

Students met with Sherry Black, Director of the Partnership for Tribal Governance at NCAI.
The American Indian and Alaska Native (AI/AN) Concentration is designed to prepare students for advanced social work practice with AI/AN populations. The concentration grounds students in the historical and contemporary issues facing Native populations from a cultural, policy, and practice perspective.

Concentration Chair

David Patterson, Associate Professor
314-935-8317
dpatterson22@wustl.edu

Other Activities

Students will also be invited to participate in lectures, roundtable discussions, and community events, which focus on AI/AN topics.

Students met with Sherry Black, Director of the Partnership for Tribal Governance at NCAI.